

Applied Economics

The Department of Economics, Faculty of Liberal Arts and Professional Studies, York University, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Applied Economics at the level of Assistant Professor to commence July 1st, 2011, subject to budgetary approval. Our interests include, but are not restricted to, candidates with an active research agenda in empirical labour and empirical public economics. Candidates are expected to have a strong background in econometric methods and an interest in policy applications. The successful applicant will have a PhD in Economics (or be near completion) and will demonstrate excellence or promise of excellence in both teaching and research, and be eligible for prompt appointment to the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

Candidates are asked to submit a signed letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, teaching evaluations, and a job market paper to: [hiring2010@econ.yorku.ca](mailto: hiring2010@econ.yorku.ca). As well, arrange for three letters of reference to be sent to the same e-mail address. The deadline for applications is November 15th, 2010. Inquiries can be made to: Professor Barry Smith, Chair, Department of Economics, York University, 1036 Vari Hall, 4700 Keele Street, Toronto, Ontario, M3J 1P3 Canada (e-mail [jbsmith@yorku.ca](mailto: jbsmith@yorku.ca))

The University's Affirmative Action Program can be found on York's website at www.yorku.ca/acadjobs. Alternatively, a copy can be obtained by calling the Affirmative Action office at 416-736-5713. While all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority
