

ASSOCIATE DEAN, HEALTH PROGRAMS – TERRACE

Coast Mountain College (CMTN), Terrace campus, invites applications for an exciting opportunity for an experienced professional to join as the Associate Dean, Health Program. This is a permanent management role and is well suited to a professional ready to apply their skills and experience to new challenges in a supportive and progressive environment. The salary will be $117,197 per annum plus full benefits and pension.

The Associate Dean is responsible for the portfolio's overall leadership and support, which includes the Northern Collaboration Baccalaureate Nursing Program-Registered Nurse (NCBNP), Access to Practical Nursing, Health Care Assistant, and other health-related programs. This includes ensuring the College offers high quality, economically responsible, approved educational programs and services that are responsive to local communities.

The Associate Dean should be a bold visionary leader and change agent who can nurture a direction that is in line with the College's academic and strategic initiatives, and who has the teamwork abilities and resources to achieve goals. While striving to enhance institutional and academic programming, student achievement, and operational management, the ideal applicant can manage successfully at both the strategic and operational levels.

The Associate Dean should live with a sense of adventure and integrity that aligns with CMTN's mission of becoming the college of choice for place-based, experiential learning, have experience with the complexities of the post-secondary landscape, and possess an inclusive leadership style. Experience and interest working with Indigenous learners and communities will be considered a significant asset.

The successful candidate will ideally possess a Master's degree in a related field combined with administrative leadership experience; preferably within a post-secondary environment, experience in the healthcare sector is a strong asset.
