

Assistant Professor – Master of Information System Security (MISSM)

Concordia University of Edmonton (CUE) is a community of learning grounded in scholarship and academic freedom, preparing students to be independent thinkers, ethical leaders and citizens for the common good. CUE is committed to fostering a diverse, equitable, and inclusive environment for work, study, and living. We actively promote dignity for all, rejecting action and language that are harmful to mutual respect.

CUE is situated on the banks of the North Saskatchewan River in Edmonton's historic Highlands neighborhood. Supporting a student body of over 4,000, we are known for our small class sizes and excellence in teaching. These features, and our diverse student population, provide an excellent opportunity for engaging with students in a sustained and nurturing way unique within the Canadian university system. CUE is an institution that values research in the sciences, social sciences, humanities and management.

CUE's Information Systems Security and Assurance department, within the Faculty of Management, offers masters and graduate degrees in Information Systems Security and Assurance. The degree programs are designed to offer a broad-based, comprehensive study of subjects as pillars for training top-notch cybersecurity and information systems auditing professionals. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to contribute to the development and continued success of our curriculum tracks.

Please Note: Vaccination against COVID-19 is a condition of employment at CUE.

This position is available to begin July 1, 2022, or shortly thereafter.

Qualifications:

- PhD in cybersecurity, computer science, computer engineering, software programming, or other relevant IT disciplines, at the time of hiring.
- An active Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) professional designation, or the ability/willingness to become CISSP certified within one year after the start of employment. Other relevant professional cybersecurity and assurance designations and certifications would be considered an asset.
- Excellence in both research and teaching, or strong potential to develop such excellence.
- A willingness and ability to take on academic administrative duties.
- Knowledge of academic programs, with a commitment and ability to advance the quality and content of programs, courses, initiatives and the student learning experience.
- Demonstrated ability to work collegially as a team member with a variety of teams and stakeholder groups.
- Proficiency with Google Email and Apps, Word, Excel, PowerPoint, and familiarity with educational technologies (i.e. Moodle), with an aptitude to learn other software as required.

The normal graduate teaching assignment is 9 hours per semester. In addition, the successful candidate must assume academic administrative duties and will be committed to growing the diversity of and building professional relationships with faculty, staff, students, and the broader community.
