Simon Fraser University

Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Students and International

Simon Fraser University (SFU) acknowledges the Coast Salish peoples on whose unceded traditional territories our three campuses stand.

For the sixth consecutive year SFU has been ranked by the Maclean’s University Ranking Guide as Canada’s leading comprehensive university and it has held first or second place for nearly a decade. SFU is also ranked 13th in Canada by the QS World University Ranking. With unique campuses in Vancouver, Burnaby and Surrey, SFU has deep roots in partner communities throughout the Province of British Columbia and around the world.

SFU aims to become Canada’s leading engaged university through innovative education, cutting-edge research and community outreach. In line with these key institutional aims, SFU now seeks to appoint a Vice-Provost and Associate Vice-President, Students and International (AVPSI). The AVPSI leads a highly motivated team of more than 400 full and part-time student services professionals engaged in the delivery of programs and services that span a student’s entire university experience, from recruitment to graduation. The AVPSI provides strategic leadership and management of the University’s policies, programs and services related to Student Services and many aspects of the student experience.

Reporting to the Vice-President, Academic and Provost, the AVPSI provides senior policy advice and leadership in three broad areas: namely, sustaining and enhancing a campus environment that is attractive, challenging and supportive for the broadest possible range of students; ensuring that Student Services activities are prioritized to meet the strategic goals of the University; and, fostering collaboration between Student Services and other academic and service units that provide services and support to students.
