

Dean, Faculty of Forestry The University of British Columbia

Location: Vancouver, BC

The University of British Columbia, one of the world's most dynamic universities, invites applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the Faculty of Forestry.

UBC's vision is to create an exceptional learning environment that fosters global citizenship, advances a civil and sustainable society, and supports outstanding research to serve the people of British Columbia, Canada, and the world. Ranked among the top 40 universities globally, with campuses in Vancouver and the Okanagan, UBC has 61,000 students and offers both intellectual riches and an unrivalled quality of life.

UBC's Faculty of Forestry is recognized globally as one of the leading forestry schools in the world. Started in 1921, the Faculty is now home to 64 Full-time faculty members, 1,100 undergraduate students, and 300 graduate students from 40 countries.

Today, the Faculty embodies a comprehensive offering of undergraduate and graduate programs that cover a breadth of disciplines including wood products science, natural resources, conservation, forest sciences, urban forestry, and forest resources management. The Faculty's programs model the broad spectrum of topics that relate to forests' interplay between our environment and all those who live on our plant.

The new Dean will bring a successful track record in significant administrative roles in research intensive universities. The Dean will have a strong track record in research and teaching, which they will bring to bear in their role in promoting excellence in both. A strategic leader with the capacity and vision to build on the momentum that the Faculty has achieved in recent years, the new Dean will be collaborative and have exceptional interpersonal skills. The new Dean's background and credentials will merit an appointment as full professor in the Faculty of Forestry at UBC.

This is an opportunity to lead a world-class Faculty, with tremendous forward momentum, situated in a city that consistently ranks as one of the most liveable cities in the world.

To explore this opportunity and receive the full position profile, submit nominations, or to apply, please contact our search consultants in Boyden's Vancouver office at 604-685-0261 (ask for Khaleeda Jamal) or email: ubcdforestry@boyden.com

For more information about UBC, visit www.ubc.ca.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.