

Provost and Vice-President, Academic University of New Brunswick (UNB)

The University of New Brunswick recognizes and respectfully acknowledges that the University of New Brunswick stands on the unsundered and unceded traditional Wolastoqey land. The lands of Wabanaki people are recognized in a series of Peace and Friendship Treaties to establish an ongoing relationship of peace, friendship, and mutual respect between equal nations.

The University of New Brunswick \(UNB\) is among Canada's top comprehensive universities. Founded in 1785, UNB has a rich history of sharing knowledge and inspiring discovery and innovation. UNB attracts students and faculty from around the world, and is consistently rated as one of Canada's best employers.

Reporting to the President & Vice-Chancellor, the Provost and Vice-President, Academic (VPA) is the chief academic officer of the University and provides strategic direction and leadership for the academic mission of the university including the planning and development of academic programs, faculty complement and development, strategic enrolment, student success, and academic partnerships, among other areas. As an integral member of UNB's executive leadership team, the Provost and VPA provides direction to university-wide strategic planning and supports the development and implementation of the University's Strategic Plan: UNB Toward 2030.

UNB is seeking a Provost and VPA who will be a visible leader, fostering a culture of excellence in teaching, student success, enrolment growth and program innovation. In close collaboration with other members of the senior leadership team, the Provost and Vice-President, Academic will assist in fostering a culture of academic excellence across the University. The portfolio is broad in scope and includes community engagement expectations and responsibilities.

As the ideal candidate, you are an accomplished academic leader with broad experience in higher education, who can build on UNB's legacy while providing vision and leadership to fulfill the University's academic mission. Your passion for excellence comes through in your record of establishing innovative programs and approaches that are responsive to the diverse and changing needs of learners. Peers and colleagues would describe you as an authentic, collaborative leader with a demonstrated commitment to Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Indigenization. You are consultative yet decisive, patient yet forthright, ethical, and committed to enhancing the student experience. Your experience in a multi-campus environment would be considered an asset.

The University of New Brunswick is committed to employment equity and fostering diversity within their community and developing an inclusive workplace that reflects the richness of the broader community that they serve. The University welcomes and encourages applications from all qualified individuals who will help achieve these goals, including women, visible minorities, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression. If you so desire, we encourage all applicants to fill out our self-identification questionnaire: Self-Identification Questionnaire | Employment Equity | Careers | UNB

To apply click here: boyden.thriveapp.ly/job/1986 for further information, please contact Michelle Richard and Collin Ritch at critch@boyden.com and state the title of the position in the subject line of your e-mail.

We thank all applicants for their interest, however, only those under consideration for the role will be contacted and priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.