

Ten Month Term Position: Theatre - Voice, Acting and Directing

The Department of Theatre invites applications at the Lecturer level for a 10-month term position in Theatre - Voice, Acting and Directing. The position will commence August 1, 2019 and end May 31, 2020.

The successful candidate is responsible for teaching acting classes across all areas of the undergraduate Bachelor of Arts Acting program, and will be required to direct one department production. In addition, one is expected to teach voice, acting at various levels, and have experience in devising and creating theatre. The ability to work with multi-lingual/international students is integral. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to departmental and faculty service relative to the position.

Candidates must possess an MFA or PhD degree with an emphasis on voice, acting and directing. Preference will be given to candidates with substantial teaching experience at the post-secondary level AND professional theatre experience. Evidence of experience in directing and devising is required, as is the ability to teach across the curriculum. Candidates should also demonstrate professional or teaching experience in two of the following areas; voice, devised theatre, physical theatre, clown, circus, new play creation and/or self-production and should be able to work with graduate students.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: January 31, 2019
