

University of Windsor Provost and Vice-President, Academic

The University of Windsor (“UWindsor”) is one of Canada’s most diverse and unique comprehensive universities. Situated in the southernmost part of Canada, with over 16,000 full-time and part-time students, the University’s campus is undergoing significant transformation, both with respect to the delivery of its many academic and professional programs and through an exciting redevelopment of its campus. UWindsor’s research and creative excellence is making an important contribution in matters of pressing concern such as our Great Lakes, industry sustainability, international borders, and community health and wellness. Together with the President and the University’s academic and administrative leadership, the Provost and Vice-President, Academic will make a major contribution to the transformation of an institution that is vital to the Region, and increasingly attractive to students from around the world.

The Provost will promote academic excellence, and, working with a highly engaged academic community, will be an agent of change championing the University’s goals and celebrating excellence. Possessing a robust academic profile, the ideal candidate will be an inclusive, consultative and enlightened decision-maker.

The University of Windsor is committed to equity in its policies, practices and programs, and supports diversity in its teaching, learning and work environments. The University encourages applications from women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities and members of sexual minority groups. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Located on a magnificent riverfront, Windsor is served by the Windsor International Airport and is a 30-minute drive from the major international airport in Detroit. This proximity to the US has enabled UWindsor to develop a number of important collaborations with Michigan universities.
